

FERCE FIGHTING IN WHICH WOMAN IS CAPTURED IN FIELD

Federal Troops and Indians Defeat Large Force of Mexican Rebels and Executions May Follow Battle.

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)
DOUGLAS, Arizona, September 21.—(Special to The Advertiser)—Anticipating an attack by rebels, nearly the entire garrison at Agua Prieta was used for outpost duty last night. The federal columns under Colonels Alvarado and Munoz, which were out of communication with Agua Prieta for several days, have arrived in Fronteras, where they combined with Colonel Obregon. There are now about 600 federal troops in Fronteras, and a force of 1700 rebels in a striking distance of Agua Prieta. They were reported last night at Conasa Springs, twelve miles south-east of the town.

General Rojas, federal leader, sent word to the federal commander that he expected to have a force of 2400 men and he would take Agua Prieta within a few days.

The two-days' battle at the San Joaquin Ranch ended in a complete victory for the federals commanded by Colonel Obregon, who took prisoner Major Benjamin Aranda, who served under General Francisco I. Madero, Jr., in the revolution last year. Under the suspension of guarantees Aranda and the other prisoners may be executed.

Complete details of the fight transmitted in the official report of Colonel Obregon show that the first battle was the most important fought since the rebels moved into Sonora from Chihuahua.

Woman Is Captured.

Obregon reported that he attacked Salazar's force of 550 rebels with a force of eleven officers and 181 men, including twenty-five rurales and the remainder Yaqui Indians. They fought from three o'clock Thursday afternoon until dark, when the rebels were driven to the hills after a fierce hand-to-hand fight. Early yesterday morning General Salazar attacked the federals but was repulsed and eleven prisoners were left in the federals' hands, including a woman, reputed to be General Salazar's wife.

General Salazar's rebels are reported to have burned a bridge on the Macozari railroad, fifteen miles south of Agua Prieta, at the same time cutting the telegraph wires.

Released and Arrested.

MARFA, Texas, September 21.—(By Associated Press Cable)—General Orozco, the rebel leader, has been released by the U. S. authorities, having been declared innocent of any violation of the neutrality laws in coming into the United States.

A fresh sensation in the Orozco case came this afternoon when Orozco, who was released this morning with his son, was rearrested and charged with murder by the federal officials.

LOS ANGELES, September 22.—(By Associated Press Cable)—Consummation of their romance in death was the fate which overtook Miles Folsom and Miss Thelma Bartoe, of this city, yesterday; death in such a form that it is believed there was a suicide pact between the two young people who took a joyride to the grave intentionally.

So far as can be discovered Mr. Folsom and Miss Bartoe felt that the romance of their life and love had been blighted and that it was best to end all together. In an automobile they went for a ride and deliberately ran the machine at full speed over the high cliffs near Santa Monica and were instantly killed.

KANSAS CITY, Kansas, September 21.—(Special to The Advertiser)—"The tail said it was irregular for the dog to wag it," said Colonel Roosevelt today, in reply to statements that the Progressives had bolted from the Republican party. "In Nebraska for instance, in the primary last spring, Taft polled about one-sixth of the Republican votes. Yet our opponents called themselves regular, but they called the eighty-three or eighty-four per cent of the voters bolters."

Colonel Roosevelt came into Kansas to remain here for two days, campaigning here today and resting tomorrow. He says that he had received reports of political conditions from the East which were encouraging to him.

DULUTH, Minnesota, September 21.—(Special to The Advertiser)—Duluth's street car service was confused today as a result of the strike. Some cars ran without headlights, while some took sudden turns up avenues not marked on their signboards. Still others were so badly off schedule that the "walking clubs" again sprang into favor.

Aside from attacks by boys with slingshots on strike-breakers and the beating of one motorman, which resulted in the arrest of a strike sympathizer, the situation was quiet.

BOSTON, Massachusetts, September 21.—(Special to The Advertiser)—A secret indictment was returned today by the Suffolk county grand jury, which has been investigating the alleged illegal distribution of dynamite in Lawrence during the textile strike last January.

After reporting, the grand jury was excused until September 29, when it will resume the investigation.

STRIKING MINERS ARE STRONGLY ENTRENCHED

Hold Fortifications Near Mine Ready to Attack Any Strikebreakers.

BINGHAM, Utah, September 21.—(Special to The Advertiser)—Three hundred strikers appeared in the fortification on the mountainside known as the "Shooting Gallery" from which the firing was done toward the Utah Copper mine on the first day of the miners' strike here.

The men are supposed to be a part of the force which came down from the breasted works to hear the address of Governor William Spry on Thursday. The fortress was deserted yesterday, and it is supposed that its reoccupation is due to the predictions that nonunion men would be put to work by the Utah Copper Company today.

Superintendent Schilling of the company did not confirm the predictions. He said this morning:

"We will do nothing today." More deputy sheriffs were sent out to the Bingham and Garfield Railroad this morning to strengthen the patrol established, the theory being that the line might be blockaded to prevent the importation of strikebreakers.

All Is Now Quiet.

BINGHAM, Utah, September 21.—(By Associated Press Cable)—The striking miners who have armed themselves to enforce their demands for an increase of wages are still entrenched but there is no firing on the militia or mine officials.

KNOX SAILS TODAY.

WASHINGTON, September 21.—(Special to The Advertiser)—A delayed telegram from United States Minister Weitzel, received today, contains reports of the Nicaraguan revolutionists again using lake steamers and bombarding San Jorge and other towns on Lake Nicaragua in the neighborhood of Rivas.

An attack on Rivas from the north by General Zeledon's column has been completely repulsed by the federals with considerable losses to both sides. It was believed today that for additional force Rear-Admiral Southard has been obliged to go as far north as Leon, where there is a garrison of bluejackets and marines. It is thought he may have found necessary more artillery than the two three-inch guns which he had with him. The only recourse would be to dismount some of the smaller caliber guns on the gunboat Annapolis in Corinto. Officials of the State Department in Washington are confident Admiral Southard will get to Granada, even though he may have to fight his way through the insurgents. They believe that, once in Granada, the admiral will seize some of the lake steamers and send his dispatches out by way of Rivas, and thence by short overland trips to San Juan del Sur, the cable station.

Three Marines Wounded.

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, September 21.—(By Associated Press Cable)—Three U. S. marines were slightly wounded here last night when the corps was fired upon by revolutionists. Considerable excitement prevails, but the situation seems to be growing better.

The insurgents who attacked the U. S. marines were drunk, it turns out, and the commander's apologies have been accepted by the Americans.

John Ah Sing was arrested last night for an assault on Loy Chuck in which the latter was slightly injured.

LODGE MAKES A CLEAR-CUT ISSUE

Opens Taft Campaign in Ohio With Emphatic Plea for Constitution.

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)

COLUMBUS, Ohio, September 21.—(Special to The Advertiser)—United States Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts opened the Republican national campaign in Ohio today with an unqualified defense of the Taft administration and a plea for the re-election of President Taft.

SENATOR H. C. LODGE

Who officially opened Taft's campaign in Ohio yesterday.

"I come to urge upon you to do everything in your power in this, his own State, for the re-election of Taft," said Senator Lodge. "I believe that the election of the Republican candidates from highest to lowest, was never more important than at the present." Throughout the pre-convention canvass Senator Lodge had held aloof from factional quarrels, because of his peculiarly intimate relations, personal and official, with Colonel Theodore Roosevelt and his friendly relations with the Taft administration.

Today's speech was his first formal utterance on national issues as already defined in Chicago and Baltimore. Senator Lodge did not mention the Progressive party or Colonel Roosevelt by name, but by implication he opposed the policy of the recall of judges, and devoted a third of his time to what he said was a proposition to tear down the constitution of the United States, "to convert it into a statute changeable by the whim of the moment."

Debs Would Like to Argue.

BEVERLY, Massachusetts, September 21.—(Special to The Advertiser)—An invitation to President Taft to enter into joint debate with Eugene V. Debs, the nominee of the Socialist party for President, was declined today by "Summer White House" officials here.

The invitation suggested that the oratorical encounter take place in Philadelphia on the night of September 28, and assurances were given that 20,000 persons would come to hear it. The President's declination was based on the fact that he has announced his intention of taking no speaking part in the campaign.

DUBLIN, Ireland, September 21.—(Special to The Advertiser)—Mrs. Mary Leigh, the suffragette, was released from Mountjoy prison today on account of ill health, due to her refusal to eat and having to be fed forcibly. Mrs. Leigh was sentenced on August 7 to five years' imprisonment on a charge of having wounded John Redmond, leader of the Irish Nationalist Parliamentary party, with a hatchet which she threw at Premier Asquith's carriage during the visit of the premier to Dublin.

Officers of Honolulu Lodge, Loyal Order of Moose, together with some thirty members of the local herd, went down to Lihue yesterday and installed Moose Lodge No. 1042—composed entirely of United States military officers and men. The party from the city returned in the late afternoon train.

MORE FATALITIES AMONG AVIATORS

Two German Officers and One Irish Birdman Drop to Their Death.

FRIEBURG, Saxony, September 21.—(Special to The Advertiser)—Two German military officers were killed while flying near here today. This makes the third double fatality in Europe within the present month in which members of army flying corps were the victims.

The machine, which was of the monoplane type, was being piloted by Lieutenant Berger, who was carrying Lieutenant Junghaus as a passenger in a flight from Chemnitz to Berlin. When passing over this city, the machine suddenly plunged from a high elevation to the ground.

The aviators were instantly killed and the monoplane was smashed to atoms.

ROME, Italy, September 21.—(Special to The Advertiser)—Another ten-hour battle, resulting in the Italian occupation of the oasis of Zanzur, twelve miles southwest of Tripoli, is reported to the Italian war office, by General Rogni, under date of yesterday. The Italian losses are given at 200 men killed and wounded. The Turks and Arab losses were large, but General Rogni does not specify the number.

(By Associated Press Cable)—The Chinese republican government has categorically and definitely refused the proposed joint loan of fifty million dollars in which the six powers were participating. The refusal, while couched in polite language, intimated unmistakably that the terms proposed by the powers, in their plan to secure the loan, are not acceptable to President Yuan Shih-Kai and his cabinet.

HAS LORD'S PRAYER TATTOOED ON CHEST

MUNCIE, Indiana, September 7.—When Sergt. Joseph R. Finney, in charge of the army recruiting station, began examining Joseph A. Benson, who wished to become a regular soldier, the recruiting officer found that he was examining a living edition of religious works, a world's geography reduced to the smallest amount of surface in the way of maps, and a farmer's guide, to say nothing of an art gallery of a kind, all tattooed on the prospective soldier, who passed the examination successfully and who was duly enlisted.

The Lord's prayer, inscribed in large blue letters, down his chest; the globe, with sixteen United States battleships surrounding it; a chicken, a hog and various wild animals. The continents and seas on the globe were accurately marked off to correspond with Mercator's chart of the globe's projection.

WOMAN SERVES AS ANCHOR FOR BALLOON

CHICAGO, September 10.—Horace B. Wild and John DeCourcy, his engineer, started out last night from Woodlawn in a 125-foot dirigible balloon. They were sailing toward the downtown district when a water plug blew out and they found themselves in serious trouble several hundred feet in the air. Their cries were heard by Mrs. Walter R. Smith, who was on the roof of a shed behind her home. She caught a glimpse of a long trail-rope, hanging from the balloon and dragging against buildings. As the rope dangled near her she seized it and anchored the balloon with her 185 pounds. She was dragged from the roof and against a fence, but held fast. The craft settled down among some telegraph wires, suffering no further damage than a broken rudder.

A Combination to Win.
Religion and Politics.
Ostrich Milk.
Joe Fern's Idea.

Really, the more I contemplate the local political situation the more impressed I am with the wonder of it all. In the first place the business men, through a small committee, arrange for a meeting and make certain endorsements. Then they were lost sight of for a time, but bobbed up serenely in the county convention with enough votes at command to steamroller their candidates into the nominations. But were these the same candidates endorsed at their earlier meeting? Not according to record. Evidently some anticipations were "left up in the air."

However, now come along a new factor in local political affairs. It is authoritatively asserted that a citizens' ticket is to be placed in the field, one which will contain the names of only handpicked candidates, men with scintillant records—not haules—guaranteed to make good in office. Such a ticket in my humble opinion is too good yet for this community, but then again, it might help to educate us politically toward a standard of municipal efficiency which would cause the rest of the United States to take notice.

Such a ticket backed by a combination of the honest voters in the community, irrespective of national party lines, would probably be a winner. Of course, not being a politician, I may be all wrong from a political precinct style, but just as a suggestion I would be glad to see a Citizens' ticket in the field composed of the best men on the Republican and Democratic tickets, with, possibly, two or three independent nominations for supervisor. With the clean, strong men of both tickets, men like Sheriff Jarrett and Deputy Sheriff Rose, David Kalanokalani and James Bicknell, Colonel Parker, or E. H. Paris, the Citizens' ticket should be a winner, for undoubtedly such a ticket would hold the balance of power. It reminds me of the only way it was found possible to beat Tammany Hall in New York in the "good old days, the warm old days and the days of the open ballot."

One of The Advertiser's subscribers writes to me asking a few questions with a combined moral, political and religious twist. Here they are:

"The argument may be used that because Mr. Bartlett is in the brewing business is no reason why he, as supervisor, should work in the interests of the saloons. This reminds me of the remark of Secretary Fisher on the first day of the Kuhio-Frear investigation, when the subject of contracts for cane between independent planters and the mills was under discussion.

"The question was asked, 'Are not the independent planters at the mercy of the mills when it came to the renewing of the planting contract?' The reply from Mr. Swanzy was, 'Not necessarily.' Mr. Fisher then asked if men were different in Honolulu from those in the United States and elsewhere. 'If they being in a position to dictate their own terms or let the cane rot in the ground would not naturally make terms leaving a minimum profit to the planter and a maximum to the mill.'

"Are the agents and managers of sugar estates interested in immigration and legislation favorable to the industry? Are the merchants interested in legislation favorable to the minimum rates on transportation and in the tariff question? Are the mechanics and laborers in favor of the eight-hour system and maximum wages?

"What would the agents say of a supervisor elected to represent their interest who voted for or used his influence toward free sugar? What would the merchants say of a man elected through their influence who used his influence in tinkering with the tariff so as to admit of an open competition with the cheaper markets of foreign countries? What would the artisans of our country do to a man who was elected to represent them and voted for the repeal of the eight-hour law and minimum wages?

"Now, I feel like asking Mr. Fisher's question again: 'Are men different in Honolulu?' It is argued that Mr. Bartlett is in for a business-like economic administration of affairs. The Good Book that takes no notice of fame or politics, which has been a light and a guide in the world for thousands of years, says, 'Where a man's treasure is there will his heart be also.' Is that true today? and in Honolulu? Then where will a man's heart be who has his capital invested in breweries and saloons? who himself and associates have their names on the applications for licenses for saloons twenty-nine times and once as bondsmen for a Sake Company?

"A saloonkeeper can not gain admittance within the sacred walls of Free Masonry, Odd Fellowship, or Good Templars. How about the men who make it possible for the saloonkeepers to continue their work of misery, degradation and crime, who back them up? Do they represent the best interests of any community?"

"Dear Editor," writes a worried correspondent of The Advertiser, "I noticed in your paper the other morning about a new island industry of raising ostriches for the milk. While I do not think it would be a paying business I would be very thankful if the editor would kindly tell me where ostrich milkshakes can be found."

Alas, the correspondent who interested Advertiser readers anent ostrich milk did not produce his credentials. The information asked can not be given. I can not, either, inform the man who pleaded with the "Dear Editor" whether it would be good for babies, as he also wished to know, or whether it would be good for foot races or give infants the long neck of intelligence. If it would we would feed it to the correspondent. Any one who could crack this joke, we dare say, would do a greater service to the world by dining exclusively on ostrich milk.

To tell the truth the editor has a right to resent that anyone make light of such a portentous affair. We are confidently led to believe that ostrich milk will be made a campaign issue by the citizens' party if by no other, and before a year is passed we will hear it argued pro and con in the sacred halls of our legislature together with why the board of health shouldn't have any more money.

Ostrich milk, we wish to inform our correspondent, will become the burning issue of the campaign. The caliber of our present tickets in the field lead me to expect that the issue will be handled with due seriousness.

I have not been invited to attend the Democratic caucus this morning at Mayor Fern's house whereat will be framed the slate which the Democratic party will offer for my consideration during the coming campaign.

Mayor Fern will speak. Last year Joe had an idea which he expanded into a speech to the effect that he ought to be reelected and this year I understand that he has another one. I have been expecting to see him wheel them down the front steps of the city hall in a baby carriage like twins.

His second idea is that he ought to be reelected again.

SHERIFF JARRETT.—In case I am induced to retire in November, I will not start a soda water stand. I will be a small farmer.

DEPUTY SHERIFF ROSE.—I have bought a pair of shoes for de-feat of Charlie Coster who, I am led to understand, will oppose me for reelection as deputy sheriff.

COLLECTOR COTTRILL.—I attended the conventions this week to see how things are done here, and I can safely say that I learned many things in politics, although I do hail from Ohio, where politics is known from A to Z.
